

THEATER TANTO

SARACHI by Ota Shogo

A married couple is thrown into no-man's-land by an invisible power. Together they try to reconstruct and recreate their world and their lives. What signifies the state "being alive"? How is it possible to recognize and understand the existential encounter of two individuals?

Contemporary Japanese writer and director Ota Shogo – who deceased last year - composed this play which contemplates the strange adventure of living together both through fictional and realistic moments, tragic and comic situations.

Actors: Jan Tabaka, Susanna Tabaka-Pillhofer

Light: Ole Georg Graf

Direction: Susanna Tabaka-Pillhofer

Date:

1st – 5th July 2009, 20.00

8th – 11th July 2009, 20.00

Museum of Ethnology / Peristyle

Neue Burg / Heldenplatz

1010 Vienna

Tickets: Tel. 0699 1400 1729
 e-mail: karten@theatertanto.at

Ticket prices:

Normal € 16,-

Reduced for pupils, students, colleagues, retirees € 12,-

€ 1,- reduction with the ticket of the exhibition „Made in Japan“